FLUSHING IS BEAUTIFULLY LOCATED on the southern shore of Flushing Bay, near the East River, and distant less than eight miles from New York City and Brooklyn by land or water. Flushing possesses all the advantages of a city of the first class with none of its disadvantages, such as tenement house overcrowding, etc.

It is supplied with gas, absolutely pure Oakland water, sewers, macadamized streets, flagged pavements, electric lights, electric cars, a police force and a wise, prudent and beneficent local government. It is a trade centre and has numerous well-appointed stores of every kind. It is noted for its churches and schools, public and private, and altogether presents unusual attractions for all who may be seeking suburban homes. Trains are run every half hour morning and evening from the three depots of the Long Island Railroad in the village and at hourly intervals in the middle of the day. A freight and passenger steamboat sails between New York and Flushing daily. The population of Flushing township exceeds 20,000. In another part of this book will be found complete data in regard to local corporations, societies, public officials—the whole furnishing a correct and complete Directory of this thriving and prosperous community.

Best Advertising Medium ON LONG ISLAND.

The Flushing Journal

PUBLISHED DAILY AND WEEKLY

AT FLUSHING, N. Y.

In calling attention to THE FLUSHING JOURNAL as the leading Daily newspaper of Long Island east of Brooklyn, we unhesitatingly say that no other newspaper is better calculated to convey to residents of the North Shore of Long Island the announcements of the leading merchants of New York and Brooklyn. The JOURNAL, Daily and Weekly, circulates in Woodside, Winfield, Newtown, Corona, Flushing, College Point, Whitestone, Bay-side, Little Neck, Great Neck, Douglaston, Manhasset, Port Washington, Roslyn, Glen Cove, Oyster Bay, Locust Valley, East Norwich, Mineola, Queens, Jamaica and all important Long Island villages.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE JOURNAL IS AT LEAST SIX TIMES THAT OF ANY OTHER LONG ISLAND NEWSPAPER.

Sample copies and advertising rates on application, or a representative will call on receipt of notification.

New York or Brooklyn merchants desiring to reach Long Island trade should advertise in the FLUSHING JOURNAL. It will pay them.
